EXTRA TIME DOWN GAA NEWSLETTER

March 2012

Paddy McFlynn
Down GAA President
attended the Ulster GAA Convention, held in St Mary's University College
Belfast on Saturday 26th February.

Paddy attended his first Ulster Convention in 1937—75 years ago.

A Coaching thought for February

John Wooden was an American College basketball coach who is much quoted in the world of sport. Look him up on You Tube etc but in the meantime here is one of John best known quotes.

"It's what you learn, after you know it all, that counts."

Club Officer Development Course

Ulster GAA will hold its club officer development course on Sat 3rd March in St Malachy's School Castlewellan from 9.30 am to 1pm. The course will concentrate on the following:

1. integration - one club model
2. developing a club plan
3. respect and discipline with a club

Workshops will also explore:

1. applying for club maith
2. club health matters
3. role of the designated officers in child protection.

Clubs are encouraged to attend this course and attendance at it will develop the skills and knowledge of club officers. All clubs are required under club maith to have representatives at this course and the recommended number is at least 4.

CLUB OFFICER ROLES WITHIN YOUR CLUB

As all new committees settle into their roles for 2012, it is imperative that each club officer is aware of their roles and responsibilities. Not only should they know their own role but they should be aware of the other club officer roles within their clubs. Club officer roles can be obtained from www.gaa.ie and www.ulstergaa.ie. Clubs may wish to include the roles of club officers on their club website for information purposes (see for example St.Peter's GAA club website under downloads).

Clubs need to be organised in the terms of administration, fundraising, coaching and games development etc. The club Chairman plays a key role in making sure the correct structures are in place for the club."

Upcoming U12 Activity Day in Croke Park

For the third year running Down GAA will be taking 96 U12 players to Croke Park on Wednesday 11th April 2012 for a Go Games Activity Day.

All Clubs in Down have been invited to forward the names of two U12 players (Final year U12 Children only to be considered) to participate in this unique event. The event is open to both boys and girls.

Down GAA will have access to the hallowed Croke Park Pitch from 9.30am – 11am during which time children representing every club in the county will participate in small sided games of Hurling and Gaelic Football. The day will also include a free tour of the famous Croke Park Stadium and Museum.

Buses will be provided to transport the children to and from Croke Park. This really is a fantastic opportunity for the young Gaels of Down. Lets ensure that every club in the county is represented at this event!!!

What are GAA Go Games?

GAA Go Games are small-sided games with modified rules in both Hurling (Go Hurling) and Gaelic Football (Go Gaelic). All Games in Under 12 and Younger Age Groups must be organised exclusively on the “Go Games” model with teams being a maximum of 11-a-side and structured to ensure that all participants get to play in the full game.

At Under-12 level, Competitions may also be organized on a mini-league format on the basis that the teams are a maximum of 11-a-side and that provision is made for all members of the team panel to participate in the game.'

What is the philosophy of Go Games?

The underlying philosophy where Go Games are concerned is one of full participation and fair play where each player gets to play the entire game (no subs where practical) and plays in a number of different playing positions during the course of each game. The games are small sided and the emphasis is on participation rather than the result. Go Games are not only about Fair Play in the sense that all participants should get the opportunity to participate fully in the games. They also revolve around the core values enshrined in the GAA Respect Initiative.

What are the advantages of Go Games?

There are a numerous advantages to this approach but the most obvious are:

- Games are small-sided and all participants get to play for the entire game
- Games are played in a fun environment with emphasis on improving skills

- Children are not subject to the win at all costs approach

This is the third year of Go Games in our County and the second full year since the adoption of Rule 6.27.

We have improved in our adherence to Rule and an awful lot of children and adults are getting terrific enjoyment from Blitz days and mini leagues.

But sadly there are some in our clubs who are insistent on treating children as mini adults; and there are regular reports of inappropriate behaviour from adults at U-10 and U-12 Go Games particularly at Tournaments both inside and outside the County.

Participation must never be sacrificed for competition, the success of the few must not be promoted over the opportunity for all children to take part, enjoy and develop to the best of their ability. We are all struggling to retain our adult players so we need more than ever to look after each and every one of our children. If you keep telling 12 year old boys and girls that they are not good enough to play on the team do you think they will still be there at 18 or 20 years of age, when you need them but when they have long since decided that you haven't anything to offer them.

A preference document is already with club secretaries and while we will facilitate requests for specific weeks where possible this cannot be absolutely guaranteed. Obviously the sooner the club comes back to us the better the chance of the preference being met.

All-County Football Fixtures

Down GAA Fixtures

By now all Clubs will have their All-County Football League fixtures and the Calendar of nights for the Incoming Season. Hopefully all run according to schedule.

The U-16 and Minor All-County Football league entries are now all submitted and will be formatted to allow for competitive Leagues this year at both 15 and 13-a-side. There are seven amalgamations among various Clubs for these Competitions and this ensures that no one is left out when it comes to everyone getting a chance to play our games.

Hurling League fixtures will be out soon after consultation with the Hurling Board and this year sees a re-vamped Junior Hurling Championship for all the non-Ards Clubs and hopefully this will make our eventual winner more competitive in the Provincial Championship at this level.

In the CCC there has been a trickle of transfers submitted and it is important that Clubs remember the deadline of March 31st for any applications.

Seachtain Na Gaeilge

Increasing and Enhancing the Irish Language in GAA Programmes.

Beidh Seachtain na Gaeilge ag tosú ar 5 Márta. Beidh imeachtaí ar fud na tíre agus ar fud an domhain chun ceiliúradh a dhéanamh ar ár dteanga agus ár gcultúr. Tugann sé an deis do dhaoine cúpla focail a chleachtadh. Tá súil againn go mbainfidh ár mbaill ar fad an-taitneamh astu.

The Seachtain na Gaeilge festival has built up incredible momentum in recent years, becoming the largest celebration of native language and culture held in Ireland each year. This now presents an opportunity for GAA members, clubs and counties to engage and enjoy with this unique festival. There are a range of activities taking place across the country.

An Coiste Gaeilge agus Oidhreacht (Comhairle Uladh)

would like to encourage our counties and Clubs in Ulster to enhance and increase the use of Irish in their official match programmes for their home games of the National Football and Hurling Leagues as a means of promoting our language in a visible way.

We would also ask all our Clubs within Down to increase the use of Irish in any official Club publications including match programmes which you may produce for this years club league games.

Line Marking Paints and Line Marking Machines

Bowcom Line marking paints, currently supply quite a few GAA Clubs with our Line marking paints and line marking machines. Some of the clubs include

Sean Mac Cumhail's GAA, Owen Beg GAA, Strabane Sigersons GAA, and Fin Valley GAA.

Clubs have been finding the cost extremely high from local distributors, and this is where Bowcom may be able to help your club by supplying you directly from Cardiff South Wales. Also one way of reducing cost is for clubs to place orders together to minimize shipping costs.

Mark Collier from Bowcom is visiting Down in March – so if your club would like a quote or to meet with Bowcom for a demonstration of their paints please contact Mark on 079 7701 0647.

You can also get more information on Bowcom products by visiting www.bowcom.com

Club Visit

It is the intention once again of the Members of Coiste Banisti to undertake Club Visits in 2012 and we will be giving priority in the first instance to those Clubs who were not visited in 2011.

The visits are a useful opportunity to have a healthy exchange of views between Clubs and County Officers and allow for everyone to hear at first hand how our County is working and allow us as senior officers the opportunity to hear directly from our Clubs.

If you would like to be included in the first phase of Club Visits then please contact Sean Og NOW to arrange a suitable date and time.

Coiste Iomana, An Duin 2012

Coiste Iomana, An Duin, in late 2011 was in a state of limbo due to a proposed change in Formation of the Board at the Annual County Convention in December 2011! Delegates after consideration at the Convention, voted to keep the status quo for 2012.

As the term of office for former Cathaoirleach; Michael Keenan, was up due to the 5 Year Rule and Runai, Gerard Mc Shane deciding to retire from the position at the Hurling Convention there were no personnel to fill the positions of Cathaoirleach or Runai.

A reconvened Hurling Convention was scheduled for Monday 23rd January 2012, where Gerard Mc Shane was formally adopted as Cathaoirleach; whilst some Management positions were filled at the meeting, the position of Runai was not filled.

As no nominations were submitted, Ms Jennifer Cultra, Killeief, was approached and accepted to act in the position of Runai, Coiste Iomana; Jennifer has a long association with Down Camogie at all levels, including former Cathaoirleach. Already she has been active in carrying out the duties of Runai and will in the near future be known to all Clubs participating in Hurling in the County.

Kieran Rice, Warrenpoint, and Arthur Mc Guinness, Newry

Shamrocks, both volunteered and were appointed as Leas – Runai and Cisteoir respectively, at the reconvened Convention. Kieran at the 1st Committee Meeting on 1st February 2012 showed his potential as Fixture Secretary with his detailed presentation of Juvenile Competitions for 2012.

One important date in the Down Juvenile Hurling Calendar is Feile Na nGael; which has been fixed for Friday 20th and Saturday 21st April 2012 in Castletwellan.

Ulster Feile is being held on Saturday 28th April, Finals on 5th May and National Feile in Dublin on 5th -7th July 2012 inclusive.

Further information and details of remaining Committee Members will be issued in the next edition, along with the Strategy, fixture summary etc, of Coiste Iomana for 2012.

Well done lads!!!

Mandatory for ALL Hurling Players to wear a helmet

Rule 4.2 (i), Rules of Specification, in the 2011 edition of Part 2 of the GAA Official Guide which reads "In all Hurling Games and Hurling Practice Sessions, it is mandatory for all players to wear a helmet with a facial guard that meets the standard set out in IS: 355 or other replacement standard as determined by the National Standards Authority of Ireland (NSAI)".

Players are asked to ensure that their helmets meet the requirements of Rule 4.2 (i), as above.

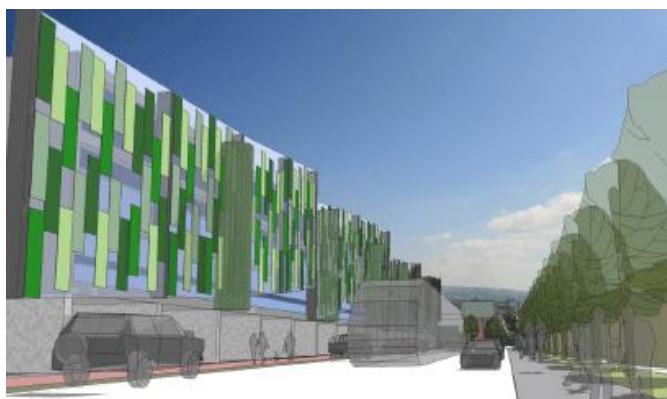

Ulster Council rubber-stamp Casement Park Stadium move

The re-development of Casement Park has taken a significant step forward with the news that the GAA has accepted the letter of offer of £61.4m from the Northern Ireland Executive.

The GAA's National Management Committee met at Croke Park on Wednesday 15th February and the Ulster Council met at its Armagh headquarters on Thursday the 16th February.

All Ulster Counties were represented at the Ulster meeting with John Devaney and Sean Rooney representing Down GAA.

The move means that a new 40,000-seater stadium is now a step closer.

Croke Park's agreed contribution is believed to be around the £15m mark. The work on the stadium is expected to last for 21 months and is expected to be completed by September 2015.

The total budget for the project is in the region of £76.4m.

The biggest and best East Down Social night of the year took place in Liatroim Fontenoys GAA Social Centre on Friday night 24th February at the Annual Awards Presentation Dinner. The only people who missed out were those clubs who failed to attend this most enjoyable occasion.

DOWN GAA

Treasurers Notes

With the draw now behind us both clubs and county continue to look at ways of raising funds. It is essential for both clubs and county to maximise their revenue streams as there is a constant demand for money to run the club and county. It is only by building a strong financial base that the county or the club can move forward.

At the last county board meeting the budget for the year was presented. In it we set targets for income and expenditure for the year to 31st October 2012. Every club should sit down at the start of the year and carry out a similar exercise. The planning of fund raising activities is essential for club and county.

Clubs can learn from each other about successful fund raising ideas. The success of an event in one club can be repeated throughout many clubs. It is necessary to strike a balance between raising necessary funds and disenchanting your support base by constantly asking the same people.

Fight nights, jigs and reels, strictly come dancing and take me out can provide both entertainment for club members and lucrative fund raising for clubs.

In these difficult economic times clubs have to be innovative in their fundraising. A club recently ran a £100 raffle with the prize for the winner been their name on the senior team jersey for year.

County Fundraising

The county plan to run a golf classic on the May in Spa golf club.

Following on from the success of last years race day a similar event will be held during the inter-county championship.

Support for these events from clubs and supporters is important to make them a both a social and financial success.

There are many ways open to supporters to give financial assistance to the county.

1. You can support events such as a golf classic or race day.
2. Join the supporters club at £10 and help at matches or join in the craic of travelling to an away match.
3. Club Down offers its members options of paying £10, £40, or £100 per month with a range of benefits depending on the level of contribution. (See www.clubdown.com).

4. Club Down monies support a wide range of activities within the county including cul camps and development squads.
5. The Down Senior Football Team training fund offers people the opportunity to contribute directly to the cost of training the senior county football team. Packages are tailored to meet the individual contributor's needs. Anyone wishing to contribute can contact the chairman of the training fund, James Mc Grath, on 07717203269.
6. One off donations are also acceptable and anyone

All Ireland Scór na nÓg Final

Caisleán Ruairi narrowly miss out at All Ireland Scór na nÓg Final.

The young competitors from Caisleán Ruairi travelled to Castlebar Co Mayo on Saturday past 18h February to participate in the All Ireland Final in the Nuachleas section. A large number of Down supporters made the journey to cheer on this young group. Having been crowned Down and Ulster champions in the past few months hopes were high of adding the All Ireland crown, but when Fear a i announced the winners Rostrevor were not on the list.

This young group, the youngest only 5 years old have had many great achievements in the 2012 season and brought many great memories to their families, club and County. Even though on this occasion the result was not as we would have liked it to be, we have no doubt that an All Ireland title will come to this club in the future. Well done Michael, James, Eoin, Eileen and Christina your performance in the Final was truly A CLASS ACT.

The Abbey Grammar School in Newry was the venue for the Final of the Down Scór Sinsir on Sunday past (26th).

Céili Dancing was the first full competition to get under way and Cumann Peadar Naofa came away as County Champions and were presented the INF Hilltown Shield by County Chairman Seamus Walsh.

Ulster's Scór Chairman Michéal Ó Grianáin and Secretary Fergus Mag Aoidh were in attendance and were duly impressed with the standard of competition that County Down had to offer. The second competition of the evening witnessed Emma Lennon (Saval) win the Solo Singing title and with it the Peter Maginn Shield with her rendition of Always remember.

The Instrumental Music title was lifted by Glenn and they collected their County title and the Peter Keenan Memorial Shield from Down County Vice Chairman William Smith. County Chairman Seamus Walsh was again on hand to present more trophies and medals as Aileen Mc Loughlin Kilcoo was crowned 2012 Down Scór Sinsir Champion in the Recitation category taking with her the Brain and Josie Kennedy Shield. Down County Cultural Officer Póilín Bn Mhig Aoidh presented Rostrevor with the Gerard Catney Memorial Shield as they collected the Ballad Group title.

After the interval the crowd enjoyed some hilarious Novelty Acts but alas there was only one winner to be had and Kilcoo collected their second County title of the evening and lifted the Newry Shamrocks Shield as County Champions from Ryan Doyle. In the penultimate competition of the evening, three clubs battled it out to be Set Dancing Champions. The County Title and the Kearney Family Shield went to raining champions Clonduff.

Four very talented and knowledgeable Quiz teams took part in the Tráth na gCeist final, and Maistir na gCeist Brain McAvoy had a hard task finding a winner to lift the Martin Goss Shield, however Mayo-bridge came out on top and go forward to represent Down at Ulster level in two weeks time.

Down champions will be competing in the Ulster semi final against Antrim and Derry County Champions in Parish centre Banbridge on Saturday 10th March starting at 7.30pm.

Role of an Oifigeach Caidreamh Poiblí Public Relations Officer (PRO)

Communications is one of the most important activities in the Association. The success of all units depends to some degree on the national and local image of the Association. Everyone in the GAA who has a role in their Club, no matter how small, has a part to play in effective communication.

There is always a need for a proper flow of information in the Club so that everyone understands how the Club operates.

The main function of the Club PRO is to communicate with the general public on behalf of the Club, presenting a positive image of the Club and Cumann Lúthchleas Gael in the local community and beyond. Therefore, the PRO holds one of the most important officer positions in the Club.

Remember:

1. Public Relations is the practice of managing the flow of information between the Club and the public.
2. No longer is it good enough for a Club to do good work:

- people must be told about it!
3. The biggest mistake that a PRO can make is to assume that people know!

Main Duties:

The main duties of the PRO are summarised as follows:

- Work as part of a team along with the other Club officers, team mentors and the various sub committees in the Club
- Promote the Club to the local community and beyond using all available methods of communication
- Provide team lists, match results and all relevant information to the County PRO on time
- Keep records for historical purposes
- Make sure the Club is well presented

As outlined, the PRO plays a major role in promoting the Club to the local community and projecting a positive image of the Club. This is a key role, because encouraging new volunteers, successful fundraising etc., depends on the Club having a good image in the locality. It is important to note that a Club does not have to be winning championships every year to be seen as an 'active' Club.

There are many examples of positive stories in the Club including:

- Anniversary of past glories
- Fundraising success
- Club social nights
- Pitch and clubhouse development
- Juvenile blitzes in the Club
- County player visiting the Club
- Club player making a county panel

Business Tagline or Motto

Using Social Media

The guidelines —when using social media personally

As a member, player or official of the GAA, you are not always speaking for the Association when you're on social media. The GAA respects your right to use these media platforms in a personal capacity, but we would ask that you remember the implications of referring to the GAA when you do.

Recognise when the GAA might be held responsible for your behaviour online, and follow these principles when you are using social media channels as a private individual.

1. Adhere to the GAA's Official Guide and Club Constitution, as well as other applicable documents. All GAA members are subject to the GAA Code of Behaviour when online, even when they are not acting on behalf of the GAA.
2. You are responsible for your actions but remember that those actions may have consequences for the GAA. You have a responsibility when using social media platforms to not do anything online that might tarnish the GAA's image and reputation or bring the Association into disrepute.

3. Look out for compliments and criticism. Even if you're not online as a spokesperson for the GAA, if you spot positive or negative remarks about the GAA that look important, forward them to your local PRO.
4. Leave it to the experts. If you see negative posts about the GAA, or see non-members trying to spark a negative conversation, avoid the temptation to react, unless you are an official GAA spokesperson. Again, forward the post to your local PRO to address such comments.

5. Do not mix your official GAA role with your personal life online. Not everyone will be able to make the distinction between the two. While the GAA respects Freedom of speech, remember that all online users can see everything you post. Use your judgement and common sense.
6. Never disclose non-public information regarding the GAA, including confidential information.
7. Remember that it may cause conflict if you take a position online that is counter to the GAA's interests, policies and regulations.

Social Media	Social media is content created and shared by individuals on the web using freely available websites that allow users to create and post their own images, video and text information and then share that with either the entire internet or just a select group of friends.	Facebook	A social utility / website that connects people with friends and others who work, study and live around them.
Social Network	The grouping of individuals into specific groups, like small rural communities or a GAA Club. It is most popular online as some form of website where individuals are connected by one or more specific types of interdependency, such as friendship, common interest, dislikes or relationships. Examples of social networks include Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn.	Twitter	A social networking and microblogging service that allows you to send short text messages 140 characters in length, called "tweets", to your friends, or "followers."
Digital Media	Online and electronic communication channels beyond social media including e-zines / online newsletters, banner advertising, search engines, online directories and mobile communications.	Google Plus	Google+ does many of the same general things as Facebook but the big difference is that with Google+ you can choose who you want to share things with. Often you don't want to share everything with everyone. Google+ allows you to choose which people you want in what Circle. You then use those Circles for all of your Google+ activity.
Moderation	The act of reviewing, approving and editing online content to ensure it conforms to guideline standards.	LinkedIn	A professional network connecting users to their contacts. It helps you exchange knowledge, ideas, and opportunities with a broader network of professionals.
		Spammer	People who illegally post commercial or inappropriate content.
		Troll	Someone who, without a valid reason, adds disruptive or offensive posts or content to a forum.

GAA Property Insurance

The GAA Property insurance has performed poorly over the past 2 years where losses paid by Insurers are in excess of €4million against a premium paid of €2million. Against this background renewal was extremely difficult to secure this year without premium increase and increase in policy excess.

The majority of losses over the past 2 years arose from burst pipes/escape of water with many units failing to take adequate precautions to protect their property during adverse weather and/or periods of unoccupancy such as the closed winter season.

The excess in respect of losses arising from burst pipes/escape of water has increased as follows;

- Excess for first burst pipes/escape of water loss is increased from €4,000 to €15,000
- Excess for units who have had a burst pipe/escape of water claim since Jan 2010 is increased from €4,000 to €25,000

In recognition of the hardship this increase in excess will place on clubs and affiliated units Central Council has made funding available for units who suffer a first loss to offset the increase in excess.

Where an affiliated unit puts in the place insurers recommended freeze prevention guidelines and/or best practice weather risk management procedure as attached and can produce evidence to document these controls were put in place Central Council will fund €11,000 towards the increased excess in respect of burst pipes / escape of water and the excess to the club will remain at €4000.

Units who do not take precautions to protect their properties will incur the increased excess of €15,000.

The excess in respect of all other losses remains unchanged at €4,000 all losses increased to €25,000 in respect of flood losses.
